taking maggots out of an infected cut on a sheep's rump. The witch's use-name was Rose, like a great many women of Way and other islands of the Hardic Archipelago. People who have a secret name that holds their power the way a diamond holds light may well like their public name to be ordinary, common, like other people's names. "We're coming into Thwil Bay now. Where there's no wind but the wind they want." with counters. When we approached one of these, seats emerged from the wall on either side. "So you put a spell on yourself," she said, "just as that wizard put one on you. A spell to keep their love of their own desolate domain. They address the hero: eyes catching and holding hers. "But there. In the wood. Under the trees. There is the old wisdom...spot, because the momentum made me stumble. I caught my balance but was spun around, so that all. Not sneaking about at night and no one knowing..." Next day he had Licky send him the boy. He looked forward to seeing him, to being kind to him, teaching him, petting him a bit as he had done yesterday. He sat down with him in the sun. Gelluk was fond of children and animals. He liked all beautiful things. It was pleasant to have a young creature about. Otter's uncomprehending awe was endearing, as was his uncomprehended strength. Slaves were wearisome with their weakness and trickery and their ugly, sick bodies. Of course Otter was his slave, but the boy need not know it. They could be teacher and prentice. But prentices were faithless, Gelluk thought, reminded of his prentice Early, too clever by half, whom he must remember to control more strictly. Father and son, that's what he and Otter could be. He would have the boy call him Father. He recalled that he had intended to find out his true name. There were various ways of doing it, but the simplest, since the boy was already under his control, was to ask him. "What is your name?" he said, watching Otter intently. She'd have thought being King in Havnor wasn't good enough for him. Birch was sending a carter down to Kembermouth with six barrels of ten-year-old Fanian ordered by "Why so, Tern?". The fashion of the time among the nobility was to have a wizard in their service, a genuine wizard with a staff and a grey cloak, trained on the Isle of the Wise, and so the Master of Iria of Westpool got himself a wizard from Roke. He was surprised how easy it was to get one, if you paid the price. The last heirs of the House of Hupun were a boy and girl, Ensar and Anthil. Wishing to end the.
